Aimo e Nadia BistRo

Michelin starred restaurant il Luogo di Aimo e Nadia welcomes the Aimo e Nadia BistRo, a new family member. The bistro in the Sant'Ambrogio district features a curated modern design, and is the brainchild of designer Rossana Orlandi, whose gallery lies just steps from the restaurant, and fashion and design brand Etro. Orlandi chose the most unusual and innovative pieces of furniture, and Etro selected the fabrics, cushions and tapestry. Amidst exotic prints and precious wall decor, guests can enjoy a selection of favorite Italian classics from breakfast to dinner. Each and every creation combines tradition with a touch of creativity by chefs Alessandro Negrini and Fabio Pisani. www.bistroaimoenadia.com Via M. Bandello, 14. T: 02 48026205. Map D5

Fueguia 1833

This boutique of artisanal Argentine perfumes has opened its first store in Milan in via Tommaso Grossi, next to the Park Hyatt Milano. Since its inception, this brand of niche fragrances from Argentina has captured the attention of the most discerning 'noses' worldwide as a result of its all-natural, evocative scents and packaging, entirely handmade using wood from fallen trees in the forests of Patagonia. fueguia.eu. Felice a Testaccio

Established in 1936 and renowned for its traditional Roman specialties, Felice a Testaccio, one of the capital's most famous trattorias, has recently opened its first Milanese branch in the shadow of the Duomo. Standouts include a triumph of tantalizing starters based on traditional Roman recipes. The menu offers local classics like tonnarelli cacio e pepe (pasta strands with tangy, melting sheep's cheese and black pepper), pasta with gricia, roast lamb and Roman-style artichokes, all accompanied by an extensive wine list. To complete the meal there is a selection of mouth watering homemade desserts, including the venue's legendary tiramisu. feliceatestaccio.it. Via del Torchio, 4. T: 02 80506690. Map E5

Paper Moon Giardino

Boasting seven restaurants worldwide, Paper Moon's latest home is in Milan's 19th century Palazzo Reina in via Bagutta. A 500 square metre design space featuring a large indoor garden, a blend of modern and antique furniture and vaulted frescoed ceilings. The menu, featuring cold dishes, antipasti, traditional Italian starters and main courses and an impressive array of desserts, lives up to the reputation of its famous sister location that has just celebrated its 40th anniversary. www.papermoongiardino.com Via Bagutta, 12.
